This course is a must for any General Practitioner wishing to gain more knowledge on sexual health. Covers topics such as Erectile Dysfunction, Low Desire, Premature Ejaculation and lots more.

INTERVIEWING SKILLS

This course is intended to bring the sexual health practitioner knowledge of the skills required to interview and counsel patients. Formalising and quantifying these skills and techniques will enable the practitioner to have a better understanding and control over the process. This will lead to better patient care and increased job satisfaction.

MASTERCLASS

The "Master class" is a new learning experience for doctors, in particular those who have done the SASHA "Introductory Course on Sexual Health" and the "Interviewing Skills" course. It consists of two four hour sessions, one on Female and one on Male sexual health, dysfunction and practical ways of managing these problems that present in practice. Doctors will find that the information and 'hands on' approach will enable them to deal with these issues more comfortably and competently.
